Kentucky threatens a fine of $3,000,000 against the Standard Oil Company. Nobody but the Standard Oil Company knows how much a fine like that would increase the price of kerosene.

A fish trust with $5,000,000 capital, has been organized at Boston. Evidently it will be pretty well prepared to offer tempting bait to the smaller fish companies to get in the swim with it.

A dermatologist in New York is being sued by a woman who claims $15,000 because he destroyed her dimple. The dermatologist will have the satisfaction of knowing that he is not the first man who got into trouble about a dimple.

A man in Pennsylvania the other day married a woman whose weight is 367 pounds. Some men take mighty big risks—but maybe the Pennsylvanian had made up his mind before hand that he always would be good when he is around where his wife is.

Says the Norfolk Landmark: "What the present Republican Administration is doing to enforce the Sherman anti-trust law could have been done fifteen years ago. The law was passed in 1890." Even now the Administration is fastening the crime on the unjailable corporations instead of the jailable individuals who concoct the crime for which corporations get off with a fine.

Chairman Griggs, of the Democratic Congressional committee wrich has just wound up its work at Washington, headquarters, concedes that in the Sixtieth Congress recently elected, the Republicans will have a majority of 46 in the House. This estimate is based upon four of the five Representatives from the new State of Oklahoma The following were the Democratic gains, Missouri 6; Pennsylvania 5; Illinois 5; Ohio 4; New Jersey 4; Indiana 3; New York 2 and one each in North Carolina, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The Democratic losses embrace two in Kentucky and one in West Virginia.

Raleigh Health Authorities Astir Over Discovery of Cases Among Negroes.

NUMBER TO THE PEST HOUSE

Charter for Odd Fellows Home and Banking Institution—State Treasurer Lacy Speaks of Financies of Government.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 19.—There is considerable stir here over the discovery of large numbers of cases of smallpox among negroes in various parts of the city and in nearby localities in the county. Eighteen patients were carried to the pest house Saturday and Sunday and still others to-day. There is only one white person in the number. He ran a corner grocery in the infected district. It is known that great numbers of negroes have been exposed to the disease who cannot be gotten up with for vaccination purposes. Most of the cases have been traced to a big negro dance held on the Denton farm, near Raleigh about 10 days ago. There are perhaps a dozen cases in this locality that have not been sent to the pest house.

A charter was issued to-day for the Aurora Odd Fellows' Home, at Aurora, Beaufort county. The capital is $5,000 by J. T. Wilkerson and others. Another charter is to the Pollocksville Banking & Trust Co., of Pollocksville, N. C.; capital $25,000 by H. A. Chadwick and others.

State Treasurer B. R. Lacy said to-day that a report published in some of the State newspapers to the effect that the State would carry over a surplus of $300,000 at the end of the current fiscal year, November 30, was, to say the least, unfortunate and misleading. He says that aside from these figures not representing the real conditions the publication will have the effect of causing sheriffs to be tardy in the settlement of taxes and may give the State serious financial trouble. There is no way under the law for him to force sheriffs to settle State taxes with the treasury until February and even if there should be the $300,000 surplus November 30, the State Treasury will be facing the proposition of meeting obligation aggregating $550 000 by January 1. To meet these obligations there will be only the voluntary settlements of county sheriffs in the matter of taxes collected for the State.

BEN GREET PLAYERS.

"Merchant of Venice" to be Put on by High Class Artists.

Ben Greet, whose company will be seen at the Academy of Music Thursday night in "The Merchant of Venice" and as a benefit for the public library, argues for Shakespeare as Shakespeare wrote it, the play, the whole play, and nothing but the play. No juggling of scenes to obtain a "big curtain" for the star, no cutting and slashing to fit the requirements of the actor's limitations, no wealth of "production" to divert the spectators' attention from the matter at hand. And Mr. Greet has the courage of his convictions, since for several years his company has been presenting during the Winter season the plays of Shakespeare in the Elizabethian manner, and it is an undisputed fact that the great public likes the innovation, if it can be called such, while your true Shakespearean student is simply carried away with it. The scale of prices will go to $1.50 and seats will be on sale to-morrow.

Thomas Rivera Dead.

Thomas Rivera, the well known undertaker and one of the most venerable and highly respected colored citizens of the community died, Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at his home, No. 516 Red Cross street. He had been in poor health for some time and his death was due to a complication of diseases. He was about 80 years of age and leaves of the immediate family only an adopted son. Thomas Rivera, Jr., of Durham, N. C. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon from St. Stephen's Church, of which the deceased was a leading member.

DIED IN WASHINGTON

Mr. Charles Humphreys, For Years Assistant United States Engineer in Wilmington, Passed Away Suddenly.

A host of friends in this city yesterday learned with sorrow of the death of Mr. Mr. Charles Humphreys, a former Wilmingtonian, who passed away Sunday morning at 2 o'clock at his home in Washington, D. C., after a critical illness of some months with stomach trouble for which he had been under treatment of a specialist for some time. While Mr. Humphreys death was not unexpected, it came as sad news to many here and elsewhere. His son, Mr. Charles Raymond Humphreys of this city, was with his father when the end came as were all other members of the family.

Mr. Humphreys was 54 years of age and for nearly twenty years was assistant United States engineer in this city, residing here with his family and making a large number of warm personal friends. In 1901 he was transferred from the Wilmington Division to Wheeling, W. Va., where he was assistant engineer for three years, being transferred from there to Mobile, Ala. From the latter city Mr. Humphreys was forced to go to his home at Washington for treatment. He had been there for six months and grew little better under the treatment until finally he began sinking and the end came peacefully.

Mr. Humphreys leaves to mourn their loss besides Mr. Raymond Humphreys, his devoted wife and two daughters, Misses Page and Nan Humphreys to whom is extended the sympathy of many friends in this city. The funeral was held in Washington yesterday afternoon and the interment was at the family burying ground near that city.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Linder to Celebrate 25th Anniversary.

Very handsomely embossed invitations in silver announce the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Linder, which will take place at their hospitable home, No. 115 South Seventh street, this city, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Linder were married on November 21, 1881, and the twenty-fifth anniversary of that event to-morrow night will attract to the home a very large number of friends in this city, who will felicitate them upon the happy occasion. The invitations to the silver wedding read as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Linder request the honor of your presence at the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday, November the 21st one thousand nine hundred and six at eight o'clock, P. M.
at their residence, No. 115 South Seventh street,
Wilmington, North Carolina.
Silver Wedding 1881-1906.

NORTH CAROLINA DAY.

Celebration This Year Will be Memorial to Dr. McIver.

Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of schools is in receipt of an official communication from State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner, calling attention to the fact that December 14 is the date set apart by the law for the celebration of "North Carolina Day" in the public schools of the State. The law is compulsory but in New Hanover it has always been a pleasant duty for the schools to observe the day. This year the exercises will be especially interesting from the fact that the programme will be in the nature of a memorial to the late Dr. Charles D. McIver. School children, committeemen and patrons on this day will be expected to make a contribution to the monument to be erected to Dr. McIver and to stimulate interest in this offering 1,000 steel engravings of Dr. McIver will be offered as prizes to the 10 schools in each county making the largest contributions over $2. The programme of exercises will be announced later.

His Injuries Serious.

Friends of Mr. George Catlett will regret to know that the injuries he received in the Coast Line wreck Saturday morning were very much more serious than was at first expected. His shoulder is broken and he has a severe gash in the head to the bone. Dr. A. H. Harriss who is attending him says that he will be confined to his home a month or six weeks and that it will be six months before he is able to go to work again. Mr. Catlett has the sympathy of a great many in his misfortune.

JAIL WITHOUT BOND

Frank James Negro Ex-Convict Held By Coroner's Jury After Inquest Sunday.

TACITLY ADMITS KILLING

Witnesses Told Story of Inhuman and Murderous Attack by Man—Knife With Blood Stains on Blade Introduced Before Jury.

William Ashe, the negro dwarf from the rice fields over about Navassa, who murdered a colored woman said to be his wife at Seventh and Taylor streets, this city, the last week in September just past, was captured Sunday afternoon near Chadbourn, N. C., on the W. C. & A. railroad, and was lodged in the New Hanover jail yesterday. The negro's capture was effected by C. H. Moore and Charlie Goodman, colored, of this city who were at work on the new ice plant being built at Chadbourn, and recognized Ashe in that vicinity something over a week ago. Since leaving Wilmington in post haste after the murder Ashe had lived quietly in a cabin on Mr. Dan Hester's place near Chadbourn giving his name there as William Pierce and claiming to be from Florence, S. C. He earned a livelihood by doing odd jobs in the community. Moore and Goodman, the colored men who effected the capture of Ashe, yesterday received from the Board of County Commissioners the $100 reward that was affered for the capture and return of the negro to this city.

Moore stated upon his arrival yesterday that he was an eye witness to the killing of the woman in this city at the time and knew of the reward that had been offered for his arrest. He saw the fugitive around Chadbourn and recognized him Saturday a week ago, but Ashe avoided him. Sunday afternoon he and Goodman had some time off and they decided to go out and get Ashe for the reward. They had started over to the cabin where he lived when they saw the man wanted and two others coming along a path. Moore secreted himself along the route and as Ashe came up, he stepped in front of him while Goodman came in from behind. They laid hold of Ashe and he offered no resistance. The fugitive was carried into the town of Chadbourn and turned over to Town Marshal M. D. Edmonds, who placed the prisoner in the guard house there until yesterday afternoon when Mr. Edmonds and Moore brought the negro in on the train from the South at 1:45 P. M. The reward was promptly paid to Moore, who will divide with the other colored man after paying Mr. Edmonds for his services in the matter.

The murderer and his captors were met at the station yesterday by Constable Savage and Deputy Sheriffs W. H. Cox and John Smith, each of whom identified the prisoner. Ashe confessed that he was the man wanted and told all about the crime. He said that he was married to the woman he killed at Mullins, S. C., and that they had a fuss over where they lived across the river because of attentions that his brother, Robert Ashe, was paying to her. She left him and came over to Wilmington stopping at a house near Fifth and Taylor streets. He came over for her to get back from her $25 that he had given her. She was abusive to him when he approached her and they engaged in a fight. She ran from him and he fired once. Then she started back toward him and he fired again, killing her. He pretended not to know that he had killed the woman until he was arrested yesterday.

Ashe is a typical guinea negro and has a head like a cocoanut, the latter being his distinguishing characteristic. He is about 27 or 28 years old and comes from a family of negroes well known in Wilmington. He is clean shaven and about the average of intelligence of his class. The coroner's jury soon after the killing of the colored woman held an inquest and placed the killing on Ashe unqualifiedly. Moore, who captured Ashe, was an eye-witness of the shooting and will be the principal witness for the State in his prosecution. The action of Moore and Goodman in returning one of their race to the authorities for punishment is so singular that they deserve the highest commendation of all.

—The new steamer Atlantic of the Brunswick Transportation Co., is expected here to-day or to-morrow. She will go immediately on the Wilmington and Southport line. Capt. M. T. Craig is in command of the boat and she left Norfolk, Va., on Friday.

BILLS IN HER MOUTH

Negress of Bad Record Had Her Mouth Full of Greenback When Arrested By Officer For Theft of the Money.

Two ten dollar bils, a five and four one dollar notes made a comfortable mouthful for Queen Victoria, a notorious colored denizen of the First ward, who was arrested early Sunday morning for the larceny of the money she had in her mouth from Holly Robinson, a negro railroad fireman, the amount with sixty-five cents in change representing all that was left of his October wages. The money was secreted in the negro woman's mouth when she was overtaken in the theft by Officer L. F. Harper and her jaws had to be prized open by the officer's thumb before she would release the greenbacks. When it came forth the bills were badly chewed and in very unrepresentable shape but the man was glad to get them back and after a brief drying process they seemed to be all right. The woman was locked up at the station house early Sunday morning and yesterday in the police court she was bound over to the higher court under bond of $100 in default of which she went to jail for the January term.

The alleged theft occurred about the Carolina Central bridge, on Fourth street. Officer Harper lives in the vicinity and just before day he was awakened by a disturbance between the man and woman. Arising and dressing quickly he went out to investigate the trouble and found the two in the street quarreling about the money. Officer Harper knew the "Queen" of old and told her to give the man the $29.65 cents she had taken from him. She denied having it and the officer called to his little son to bring a lantern, which he did. While they were searching around for the money Mr. Harper's little son, who seems to have the every instinct of a detective, exclaimed to his father as the woman shifted her cud, that she had something green in her mouth. That was cue enough for the old officer and the woman reluctantly disgorged the two tens, one five and four ones. The "Queen" was locked up in short order.

MAYOR'S COURT YESTERDAY

Several Cases of More or Less Interest Disposed Of.

The Mayor's court yesterday presented a number of cases of more than passing interest. A large number of delinquent license tax payers were let off upon condition that they settle up arrearages with the City Clerk and Treasurer at once.

John Watson was before the court for his 'steenth time, charged with being drunk. The Mayor imposed a fine of $20 and costs. Watson asked the Mayor to suspend judgment upon condition that he would leave the city. It was agreed that judgment would be suspended on the conditions named by the man and he promised to leave at once. It is presumed that he has done so.

Charles Fisher, an Albino, was charged with being drunk and down. He was given 30 days, a sentence that he had heard oft before.

Mr. D. R. Foster was charged with exceeding the speed limit in his automobile at Front and Princess streets. Mr. Foster frankly stated that he was unmindful of the fact that he had violated the law, but that if he did he was willing to pay for the indulgence. Officer E. R. Chadwick made affidavit and Mr. Foster was required to settle the costs amounting to $2,35.

CONGESTION OF FREIGHT.

Coast Line Warehouses Piled High—Scarcity of Drays.

With the advent of the holidays and the consequent heavy shipment of all kinds of goods, there is complaint among local business men of a great congestion of freight at the A. C. L. warehouses in this city. Heretofore the congestion has been on the yards, but now the trouble seems to be at the warehouses after the freight is delivered. The railroad people claim that the merchants have been unable to get drayage facilities adequate and have been slow to move freight upon arrival, whereas many of the receivers say that the warehouse facilities are not sufficient to the growing commerce of the port and that the way freight is piled up in the warehouses they are unable to get at it even when drays are obtained.

It is also learned that with the congestion of freight the railroad company has been the victim of what appears to be an organized band of thieves. Complaint is made that shipments are frequently robbed, cars being broken open in transit and after their delivery on the Wilmington yards.

WM. ASHE CAPTURED

Negro Who Murdered His Wife in Wilmington Last September Jailed Yesterday

CAUGHT AT CHADBOURN, N. C.

Wilmington Colored Man at Work on Ice Factory There Caught the Fugitive and Claimed the Reward—Prisoner Talks Free.

Frank James, alias "Smiley" the negro ex-convict who so foully murdered his paramour, Bettie Johnson, a middle-aged colored woman, near Eleventh and Market streets Saturday night, was committed to jail without bond by the coroner's jury, which held an inquest Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the City Hall. The evidence against the negro was conclusive in every particular. He made no statement, but has not taken the trouble to deny the charge against him and appears indifferent to the fate that undoubtedly awaits him.

The particulars of the murder and the capture of the murderer were given in Sunday's paper and very little if anything new developed at the inquest. The jury was composed of Justice G. W. Borneman, foreman; Mr. Julius Sternberger, secretary; and Messrs. A. Silverman, W. L. Burkheimer, W. B. Savage and E. W. Hewlett. After an examination of all the witnesses the verdict of the jury was rendered as follows:

"We, the undersigned coroner's jury, duly summoned and sworn by C. D. Bell, coroner of New Hanover county, beg to report after hearing the evidence in the case before us from the evidence of the witnesses, we find that the said Bettie Johnson, alias "Monk" came to her death by knife wounds inflicted by the hand of Frank James, alias "Smiley."

Ed Johnson, a brother of the dead woman, was the chief witness. He stated that James came home from the compress and began quarreling with his sister. He kicked her and beat her with his fist. The witness remonstrated with James about his conduct and his sister said that she would take a warrant out for the man. He went on the back porch of the house to wash up and knew nothing more until he heard his sister cry "Murder" and as he ran out, he saw her lying near Eleventh street, dead, her body swathed in blood. The negro James he said, had met his sister when they were serving terms together on the county roads and they had been living together since, though they had quarreled every Saturday night over money matters.

Amanda Norment, a colored woman living in the house adjoining that of the Johnson woman, told of the first difficulty and the fact that the dead woman went off to get a warrant. Returning James set on her with a knife. Witness was on the porch of her house at the time and did not see the cutting, but knew it was Frank James.

The knife taken from the negro was introduced before the jury and Ed Johnson identified it as the property of James. It had blood stains on the blade and handle. James was asked as to the two men who were with him on the lumber yard and fired back at the officers when he was captured. but he said they were strangers to him. Gealey James, a negro who works at Van Oesen's saloon on North Fourth street, said that James came there about 9 o'clock after the killing and confessed that he had cut the Johnson woman.

The jury was but the time it took to write it in agreeing upon a verdict and the prisoner was at once sent over to the county jail without bond for his appearance at the term of New Hanover Superior Court which meets on January 21.

LAD SEVERELY INJURED.

Caught in Belt and Thrown Violently at Williard Bag Factory.

Young Mr. Paul Aman, 15 years old, an operative at the Willard Bag Company, suffered painful injuries early yesterday afternoon as the result of being caught in the belt of a machine near which he was working. The boy's sleeve was caught in the revolving belt and he was thrown violently against a table nearby, suffering severe bruises on left shoulder, elbow and on the right side of the chest. He was unconscious for some time. Dr. Thomas M. Green was summoned and gave the boy the necessary attention after which he was sent to his home. The fact that the belt on the pulley was loose and stopped with the obstruction probably accounts for the injuries not being fatal.

MAY OPEN STAND-PATTERS' EYES

Last year, mainly through the efforts of southern manufcturers, President Roosevelt appointed, under the auspices of the Department of Commerce and Labor, a commission to visit various countries with a view to ascertaining how our cotton trade could be enlarged. Primarily that was the object of sending the commission or commissioners abroad, but naturally its scope was enlarged to take in the trade of the country in all lines. It now appears that the reports of the commissioners will open the eyes of the stand-patters to the fact that if we expect to increase our trade we must make some concessions in our tarif. The high tariff shuts out trade with foreign countries and naturally countries having no mutual trade relations with us will not be good customers of ours. The investigations of our trade hunting commission may again compel the Republican party to return to reciprocity in lieu of revising the tariff. The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce writes that paper on Saturday last:

"A subject now receiving wholly unexpected attention in view of the approach of the opening of Congress is the question of tariff legislation. Prior to the recent elections it had been taken very much for granted that the whole question of the tariff had been definitely shelved, for this session at least. Secretary Taft's apparent disposition to concede something to the advocates of tariff reform was looked upon as a mere personal attitude, and was spoken of as a position that would be likely to consign his Presidential prospects to obscurity. But since the election a rather different point of view has been adopted, even by bigoted tariff advocates. It would now seem that the subject will at least receive considerable discussion at the coming session, and it is possible that steps may be taken toward some provision for mutual trade concessions to other countries. Should this not be done, a special session may be called. This is a different outlook from any that has existed for a good while past."

The correspondent goes on to say that one thing that is doing its share to stimulate the interest felt in questions of reciprocity at the present moment is the information that has been brought back and furnished to the Department of Commerce and Labor by the special representatives it has sent out to inquire into conditions in South America and elsewhere. According to the reports of these observers there is little use in the effort to induce these countries to buy our exports until we are ready to take much more of their goods than we do at present. A careful report by Special Agent Hutchinson, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, on the trade of Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay makes this most particularly clear with reference to the trade of those countries. He shows that better freighting facilities and the like are probably not to be realized until we buy a larger share of the exports of the River Plata countries—a situation not likely to be brought about until our tariff duties are modified with reference to these products. Barring this change our trade with these countries may increase in minor ways through the increasing exportation of small American specialties, but will hardly assume any great significence. It is seen also that great changes in the direction of broader development are impending in these countries, and that in case European nations maintain their pre-eminent position in the trade with South America during this transition period aiding in it by the offer of their capital on loan. it is probable that we shall be permanently at a disadvantage in competition with the countries in question. It will be relatively easy to regain our proper position in this trade if we will but make suitable concessions in commercial legislation.

It will be remembered that the New York Merchants' Association has also been urging reciprocity or tariff revi- sion, and one of the most outspoken advocates of it has been James J. Hill, the western railroad magnate, who has pointed out how reciprocal trade relations would build up our trade in the Orient and quicken business over all our western lines of railway.

MORE LAND THAN WE THOUGHT WE HAD.

The United States Government Survery has just issued from Washington a bulletin which represents the result of the conference and co-operation of the land office, census office and geological survey in an effort to determine what constitutes "the area of the United States." The absence of standard measurement for ascertaining the area led to a discrepancy between the tables of the census office, made in 1887, and those of the general land office, arranged in 1889. The result of the co-operation of the departments is that the area of the United States proper which is given as 3,026,789 square miles, has been increased over the census figures by 1,118 square miles. The bulletin gives the area of Alaska as 500,884 square miles; the Philippines, 115,026; Hawaii, 6,449; Porto Rico 3,435; Guam 210; Samoa 77, and the Panama Canal strip 474 square miles.

—Chicago has a negro judge. She doesn't want him, and thinks he ought to resign, but if the negro has gumption he will stick. The Republicans wanted the negro vote. To get it they nominated the negro. Many people looked on the nomination as a joke. But the nominee and the negroes did not. Those who are calling on the negro to resign affect to be much chagrined. But they do not call on other candidates who were elected on the same ticket with the negro to give up their offices.—Savannah News.

—Declaring that not only has her face been marred, but that she has been robbed of a "dainty little dimple" which she prized highly, Euphemia B. Koller, an author, who recently came to New York from Washington, has brought suit for $15,000 damages against a dermatologist, who she declares guaranteed to remove wrinkles from her face, make her more beautiful. Miss Koller says that her friends would often ask her why she scowled. Her scowling was not intentional, she says, but was caused by wrinkles between her eyes and just above her nose. As Miss Koller did not want to have the appearance of being ill-natured, she decided to have the wrinkles removed. Instead of taking away the wrinkles, she alleges that the "beauty doctor" took away her dimples and left her face "a sight."—New York Herald.

THE IMMIGRANT SHIP.

Mr. Badenhoop Makes Correction as to Charleston Incident.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 10. 1906.
Editor The Morning Star,
Wilmington, N. C.,
Dear Sir:—

In your issue of Thursday, November 8, there appeared an article taken from The Columbia State, in which I am mentioned as having filed complaint with the immigration authorities for not having been permitted access to the immigrants on the wharf. I do not know from what source The State obtained this information, but I wish to say that it is not correct.

When Mayor Rhett, of Charleston told me that I should have to leave the wharf. I asked his permission—which was granted—to explain my sudden departure to the immigration officials with whom I had previously been in conversation. These gentlemen were much surprised at the Mayor's action, but I filed no complaint either at that time or later in the evening with Gen. Sargent. The only reason I told him about it was that he might think I had neglected my duty.

In addition I wish to say that under no circumstances should I have done anything that might cause trouble. I wanted the landing of the Wittekind to be a success, and the more immigrant steamers follow her to Charleston or to any other Southern port, the better I shall be pleased. The South needs immigrants very much and with the proper class of settlers and laborers it will become the greatest section on earth.

It is a great pity that the law in its present form is so harsh toward what is often the best class of immigrants. I now refer to the contract labor law. This was passed upon the request of the labor unions in order to prevent wholesale importation of European laborers in cases of strikes and applied to those cases, the law is very just and good. But I am sure no member of Congress who helped to pass it expected that it would take such dimensions. I say that many of the best class of Europeans who would make fine Americans citizens, the class that came in past years and helped to make this country so great, are now kept away. The most valuable class, mechanics, as well as other people have steady employment and are well paid in Europe, and nobody cares to give up a reasonably good position for something uncertain in a strange country. "America" has an alluring sound to all people in Europe and we should get a different class of immigrants, if the better classes did not fear the ordeal of landing under the present laws.

Thanking you for publishing this statement, I remain.

Very Truly Yours,
H. BADENHOOP,

Made Happy For Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Alban's, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy's drug store. Price 50c.

Famous Strike Breakers.

The most famous strike breakers in the land are Dr. King's New Life Pills. When liver and bowels go on strike, they quickly settle the trouble, and the purifying work goes right on. Best cure for constipation, headache, and dizziness. 25c at Bellamy's drug store.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of Dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

NEW YORK CHURCHES.

Trinity and the Land It Occupies Valued at $12,500,000.

Trinity church is valued at $12,500,000. This estimate includes the land occupied by the churchyard. It is in the most valuable part of New York, if not in the most valuable division of property in the world.

St. Paul's church is valued at $5,500,000.

Grace church, at what was once described as the head of Broadway, is valued at $950,000.

The First Presbyterian church, on Fifth avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, is valued at $750,000.

St. Mark's church, on Second avenue, an old landmark in that neighborhood, is valued at $275,000.

The Marble Collegiate church, Fifth avenue and Twenty-ninth street, is valued at $1,000,000.

The Church of St. Paul the Apostle (the Paulist church), at Fifty-ninth street and Columbus avenue, is valued at $700,000.

The West Presbyterian church, on West Forty-second street, is valued at $450,000, St. Thomas' at $1,700,000 and the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, 9 and 11 West Fifty-ninth street, at $1,000,000.

The valuation of the Temple Emanu-El is $1,530,000, of St. Patrick's cathedral $6,000,000, of the B'nai Jeeshurun synagogue $300,000, of the Temple Beth-El, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-sixth street, $1,300,000, of the Broadway Tabernacle, Broadway and Fifty-sixth street, $700,000 and of the Christian Scientist church, Central Park West and Sixty-eighth street, $300,000.—New York Sun.

PRACTICAL PICTURES.

Odd Parlor Ornaments and a Very Substantial Dinner.

There is a practical minded millionaire who has invented a substitute for valuable pictures which it is hoped will not commend itself to others. He has had a large number of bank notes framed, and these are hung upon the wall where the pictures should be.

In the drawing room is one frame that contains a bank note for £100,000, and he says: "There is the money in case I find a picture which is sufficiently valuable to pay that price for it. Meanwhile the note tells its own tale and saves me from explaining to my visitors that 'this picture cost so much,' as most other rich men do.

"The chief pleasure of these collectors appears to arise not from the beauty of the work, but from the cost of it; then why not have checks or bank notes for a large sum hung on the walls, as I do? Besides, I find that it is much more interesting to my visitors, for most of them look long and carefully at the bank notes who would but glance at the work of art."

This eccentric man gave a dinner on the same principle. In the soup plates there was no soup, but sovereigns; for fish were served five-pound notes, for game checks and for sweets shares in a thriving company, and there was not a guest who did not enjoy this entertainment more than any he or she had ever before been present at.—London Truth.

Dean Swift on Spelling.

Dean Swift roundly denounced the poets of his day who had introduced the "barbarous custom of abbreviating words to fit them to the measure of their verses." Swift instances "drudg'd" and "disturb'd" as mortal offenses. The custom so introduced had begun to dominate prose. Another cause—borrowed, Swift suggested, from the clipping process—which he held had contributed to the maiming of the language, "is a foolish opinion advanced of late years that we ought to spell exactly as we speak; which, besides the obvious inconvenience of utterly destroying our etymology, would be a thing we should never see the end of."

Risks In Railway Journeys.

The idea that the man who goes on a railway journey takes his life in his hand and is rather more likely than not to meet with an untimely death at the first curve the train negotiates is scarcely borne out by the fact that the chances against any one passenger meeting his death on the railway are 36,000,000 to 1. This immunity from disaster reflects considerable credit upon the companies, but still more upon engine drivers and signalmen, whose skill and care are the main factors in the safety of the passenger.—London Court Journal.

Reason.

Reason, reason as much as you like, but beware of thinking that it answers to everything, suffices for everything, satisfies everything. This mother loses her child. Will reason comfort her? Does cool reason counsel the inspired poet, the heroic warrior, the lover? Reason guides but a small part of many, and that is the least interesting. The rest obey feeling, true or false, and passion, good or bad.

Taking Him Down.

"Crittick was pleased to say that my play had few equals as a bit of realism," remarked young De Riter.

"He said even more than that," said Peppre*y*.

"Indeed?"

"Yes," he added, "and positively no inferiors."—Exchange.

Sound Sleep Depends On Good Digestion

Insomnia is a result of dyspepsia.
Do you sleep well?
The suffering stomach sets your nerves on edge, banishes sleep and leaves you a prey to dark thoughts and a terrible, oppressive sense of impending calamity.
You become thin and scrawny; your face is pinched and sallow. Your food distresses you. In the morning a bad taste and bad breath.
We have a remedy we know will correct these conditions.
Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will make your stomach well and strong.

They will quiet your nerves; fill your veins with rich, red blood; brighten your eyes; put flesh on your bones; make your complexion clear and fresh, and bring you sound, refreshing sleep.

We guarantee they will relieve you of the load that is breaking you down physically and mentally.

Because of our positive knowledge of the many wonderful cures Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets have effected, and to make you feel our confidence in them, we promise to give you back your money without question if you say they have not cured you.

Five Years' Suffering Ended

"For five years I suffered acutely with indigestion, my principal complaints being headaches and a feeling of fullness and distress after eating. Combined with this I suffered severely with a belching of gas and a general run down condition. I took the Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets and I cannot say too much for what they accomplished for me. My headaches and all the accompanying ills have entirely disappeared. I sleep well and my general health has improved 100 per cent.—Mrs. J. Strohl, 253 Genesee St., Buffalo, N. Y."

AN ARMY CONTROVERSY.

Question of Salvage on Government Reservation is Brought Up.

The following from the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune will be read with interest:

"An army officer on duty at Fort Caswell, North Carolina, has been threatened with proceedings in the civil courts because he ordered the post quartermaster to take care of a lot of lumber which had floated ashore in the last storm off that coast. Others claimed it as salvage, and there has been a controversy between the lifesaving people and the military authorities as to the proper custodians of the material. It so happens that the lifesaving station is on the military reservation, of which the commanding officer at Fort Caswell, Captain E. J. Timberlake, is in entire charge. The War Department is prepared to call upon the Department of Justice to defend that officer in his action, for under the law he has a right to take care of material which comes ashore on the reservation, and the government becomes the owner of the refuse. There has been considerable correspondence in regard to the matter."

BLOODHOUND DID WELL.

Successful Trial Run Sunday at Castle Haynes After Convict.

The older and trained bloodhound of the three recently purchased by the county was given a trial run Sunday morning at Castle Haynes by Constable Savage, Deputy Sheriff John Smith Mr. J. D. Mote and others. The guards at the convict camp had been informed of the coming of the officers with the hound and at 7 o'clock a "trusty" was turned loose and told to evade the dog as he knew how. The colored man took a circuitous route for six miles over the country and about three hours later the dog came and was put on the trail. He ran well and in just 45 minutes had entirely covered the route traversed by the convict and bayed the black man up a tree. The dog had to be restrained from going on the convict. The trial run was in every way a success.

With the proper training and the gaining of the knowledge necessary by Constable Savage in managing the animal the man hunter will no doubt prove a valuable holding for the county.

AT ST. THOMAS CHURCH.

Confirmation This Morning by the Bishop—Other Services.

This morning at 10 o'clock in St. Thomas' Church, the sacrament of confirmation will be administered to a large class by Bishop Hall. The Bishop will also officiate this evening at 8 o'clock at the closing of the special devotions, preaching the sermon. The choir will render a number of selections from Weigand's Vespers, and the Litanies will be chanted by the Priests. The Bishop will leave Wednesday morning to dedicate a chapel at Rose Hill and confirm a class there. He will return Thursday evening after visiting the Italian colony at St Helena, leaving Friday morning to visit Fayetteville. His visit to Wilmington upon this occasion has been greatly appreciated by the congregation of St. Thomas' and his sermons have been much enjoyed.

A GROWING ENTERPRISE.

Carl B. Rehder Candy Company Has Attractive Holiday Offering.

Elsewhere in to-day's paper will be found some attractive holiday offerings by the Carl B. Rehder Candy Company, which lately embarked in business in Wilmington and which already enjoys a very large patronage in this city and territory. The firm is exclusive agent and distributor for a number of leading candy factories and fresh shipments are received daily. The line of novelties carried is unique and well worth investigating by the trade. Those buying Christmas candies and novelties could do no better than to ask the house for its quotations or call and look over the stock, No. 126 Market street.

There is a good job waiting for men and women with brains. They must hustle all the time. Why not become a hustler by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea? Tea or tablets, 35 cents. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

CARD OF THANKS.

Hospital Circle of King's Daughters Do Noble Work.

The Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital think it due to thus publicly express their thanks to the ladies composing the Hospital Circle of the King's Daughters for their interest and assistance in many ways, and especially for the gift of linoleum to cover the halls and the stair coverings, which supplies a want very much desired in the past and which it was not possible for the Board to provide from its treasury. This gift is not only appreciateed by the management, but by the patients also, as it does away with the sound of footfalls and makes the rooms more quiet. Such practical aid is great assistance and encouragement to the Board in their efforts to maintain the Hospital at a high standard and to have it second to none in the South, and the ladies can enjoy the consciousness of having done a good deed to the sick and suffering humanity within those walls, and know that their efforts and sacrifices in this and their many other acts of kindness is appreciated by all those connected with this Hospital work in this city.

"PLAYER MAID" A SUCCESS.

Large Audience Well Pleased at Academy of Music Last Night.

Miss Florence Davis and Elliott Dexter in "The Player Maid" at the Academy of Music last night gave great satisfaction to a large audience. Miss Davis was seen in the same piece last year and while her support this season is not altogether what it was upon her first appearance, the return engagement was every whit a success. She is a most charming actress of fine stage appearance and a grasp of the art that is refreshing.

The next offering at the Academy of Music is Ben Greet's Players in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" Thursday night and Helen Grantley Friday night in "The Little Gray Lady" Next week the theatre-goers will have the pleasure of seeing Paul Gilmore in his new college play "At Yale."

Died Sunday Midnight.

Chauncey S. Brown, 20 years old, of Rocky Point, died Sunday midnight at the Rountree House, No. 121 Market street, this city. The young man had been in the city for several days for treatment of an eye by Dr. H. O. Hyatt and died of septic menengitis. He leaves two brothers and a sister, of Rocky Point, Messrs, T. J. and W. A. Brown and Mrs. T. E. Hayes. The remains were sent to Rocky Point yesterday morning and the funeral services will be held there.

Changes of Seaboard Trains.

It is stated that effective the last of the present month the early morning Seaboard Air Line train leaving here daily at 4:30 A. M. and arriving at 11:30 at night, will not be operated further than Hamlet. The connection however, will be made at Hamlet with the through train which will take care of the local traffic as far as Monroe. Another train will be operated, it is stated, between Monroe and Charlotte, connecting with the through train.

Their Little Son Dead.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Love formerly of this city, but now of Armour, N. C., will sympathize with them in the death of their infant son, W. R. Love, Jr., aged one year and 17 days, which occurred yesterday morning. The funeral will be conducted at Armour to-day.

—King's Mountain Herald: While cutting a ditch along the sidewalk of the curbing just in front of J. S. Mauney's residence a few days ago, a vein of tin ore was cut and it bears at least 5 per cent. tin and can be easily traced across several lots. Thus we have another positive evidence of tin in our midst. We hear that the prospects of the tin mine people near Lincoln are very bright at this writing. Two good veins have been cut in the tunnels from the main shaft at the 100-foot level. These are running in the right direction and are very rich in tin ore. These people now have a large quantity of ore in sight.

Gives vigor, strength, vitality to your nerves, stomach and every part of your body. It's easy to take; swallow a little Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea; it does the business. Tea or tablets, 35 cents. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

It is a fact that there is no business that cannot be benefitted by judicious advertising.

TRIAL OF HARRY K. THAW.

Will Probably Commence December 3rd.—Rumored Plea of Insanity.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 19.—District Attorney Jerome to-day served notice upon counsel for Harry Thaw that the prosecutor would appear in court to-morrow and ask for a special jury before Recorder Goff on December 3 to try Thaw for the murder of Sanford White the architect. A panel of 150 names will be requested. Mr. Jerome adds that the case is one that required attention and despatch. Thaw is charged withm urder in the first degree.

D. L. Delmas and John B. Gleason, ed with murder in the first degree. client in the Tombs late to-day. The object of the visit, it is understood, was to confer with the prisoner on the matter of a story published this afternoon and which was to the effect that three alienists retained by the defense to examine Traw, had reported to his counsel to-day their conclusion that Thaw was insane when he killed White.

Following tre visit of counsel to the Tombs, it was reported that they had told Thaw to pay no attention to the story regarding tre alienists, as it was without foundation. To-night, however, A. R. Peabody, also of Thaw's counsel, delared emphatically that the published story would neither be confirmed or denied, as the attorneys for the defense had decided to do no further talking for publication. Wren a note was sent to Thaw inquiring whether he had anything to say regarding the matter he replied: "Nothing whatever. See Mr. Hartridge."

Mr. Hartridge is Thaw's personal counsel. The interest in to-day's report regarding the alienists was due to the suggestion of a possible defense to be set up by the accused's attorneys.

SCHOONER LOUIS G. RABEL SUNK.

Encountered Two Storms Off the South Carolina Coast.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 19.—After battling with the rising flood in the hold for 36 hours, Capt. Wyman, of the schooner Louis G. Rabel, managed to get the vessel into Bull's Bay where she foundered Sunday. The schooner sailed from Newport News November 11, with a cargo of boal, bound for Mayport, Florida. On November 14, she encountered a southwest gale and began to leak. Anchoring off Georgetown the water was pumped out, and a fresh start was made November 16. The following day a southerly gale was encountered and the vessel again began leaking. The crew terrified with continued disaster, had to be driven to the pumps and with great difficulty the vessel was worked into Bull's Bay, where it sank. The Rabel and cargo will be a total loss. The vessel was owned by the J. S. Winslow Company of Portland, Maine. The captain and crew escaped in a boat.

Bees as Embalmers.

When foreign bodies are put into a beehive the bees generally cover them with propolis, or bee glue. By way of experiment a rag doll and a cloth rabbit were put into a hive by a writer for St. Nicholas.

"Imagine my surprise," he says, "when I opened the hive about three weeks later to find that they had used very little propolis on either, but had nibbled almost all the clothes from the doll and had even attacked the stockings. What they had failed to take off and carry out hung in delicate fibers and shreds, apparently ready to be removed. Did they expect to dispose of the entire doll in that way?

"The rabbit was slightly soiled, but not smeared or nibbled. The bees had, however, utilized it as a support for a comb, which they had attached in the most astonishing manner to one ear and to the tip of one fore foot.

"The cloth of which the rabbit was made was different from that of the doll. Did the bees find it more difficult or impossible to nibble this? Did they know that it was unnecessary to seal it in, as would have been necessary with a small animal liable to decay, and since they must endure the intruder's presence did they determine to make it useful as payment for the valuable room that it occupied?"

Hit It.

"You can't guess what sister said about you just before you came in, Mr. Highcollar," said little Johnnie.

"I haven't an idea in the world, Johnnie."

"That's it. You guessed it the very first time."

THE STORY OF LIGHT

EARLY SCONCES AND LANTERNS, CANDLESTICKS AND LAMPS.

Tragic Incident of the Ancient Custom of Carrying Flambeaus at Festivals—Origin of the Phrase, "Holding a Candle to You."

There was a panic of a curious origin about the beginning of the eleventh century. It was widely believed that the year 1000 would witness the end of the world, and this superstition caused a very general stagnation of industry and commerce. Such panics have occurred at irregular intervals ever since, the last one being within the memory of the present generation and inspired by Mother Shipton's prophecy:

The world to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred eighty-one.

However, as soon as people became convinced that the world was not really going to come to an end in the year 1000, they resumed their work and play, and the making of lamps and candlesticks, like other manufactures, entered upon an era of prosperity. Monasteries were famous schools for this work, as for all other forms of handicraft, and paid peculiar attention to the beautifying of lamps and candlesticks because of their usefulness in church services. During the eleventh century Dinant, in Belgium, became famous for its copper work, and some of the most beautiful chandeliers of this period were made there. At about this time the "couronne des lumieres," or circle of lights hung from the ceiling, became a common device for lighting a church, and some of these are exquisite works of art.

In this period, too, various devices for improving and shielding the light came into use. Our ancestors were very practical people, and if some of their utensils appear to us somewhat singular it is because we do not understand the purpose for which they were used. It is rare indeed to find any cumbersome addition to a lamp or candlestick which has not its use. The old time silversmiths and copper workers did not spend their strength on mere decoration.

The sconce and the lantern were in general use throughout the middle ages. The sconce was a light covered and guarded from the wind, lifted down by a handle, and distinct from the lantern, serving somewhat the same purpose, but hung by a chain.

Lanterns in the thirteenth century were made of gold, silver, copper or iron, according to the means of the owner. The light in them was shielded from the wind by thin sheets of horn. Lantern making was an important industry in Paris.

At this time, too, noblemen and rich merchants took to having luxurious little traveling equipments made for them, and among these were traveling candlesticks and wash basins in this fine enameled work, the secret of which is now lost.

The custom of having servants carry flambeaus at festivals also became general about this time, and a strange and tragic incident is connected with this fashion. At a ball given by Charles VI. the torches carried by some careless servants came too near the headdresses of certain persons dressed as savages and set them on fire. The unfortunate guests were burned to death, and the king at the sight lost his reason, a madness which had a serious effect on the history of France.

Magic lanterns were invented in the time of King Francis I. A device on a somewhat similar plan was used as a sign before shop doors to attract custom.

Lamps fell into disfavor at the beginning of the seventeenth century and were used only by the poor and in passages and stables where the smoke could evaporate and a great deal of light was needed. Candles had then reached their perfection and candlesticks their most exquisite form. A candlestick of crystal given by Louis XIV. to La Valliere is still in existence, and it was at this time also that the crystal pendants came into fashion.

Street illumination was not seriously attempted in Paris until about the middle of the seventeenth century. In the first years of that notable century the streets of Paris were dark. The rich were escorted by lackeys bearing torches, the middle class folk picked their way, lantern in hand, while the poor slid along, feeling their way by the walls. In his edict of September, 1667, the king provided that candles inclosed in a cage of glass should be hung by cords at the height of the first story of the house, three lanterns for every street, one at each end and one in the middle. At the sound of a bell, struck by a watchman, they were lighted.

Paris was, however, considerably in advance of other cities of the world at this time. In London link boys stood about in public places calling out in lugubrious tones, "Gentlemen, a light!"

The origin of the phrase "holding the candle to you" is somewhat doubtful, but some authorities trace it to the fact that, as the small light stand had not yet been devised, any one who desired to read in bed had to have a servant stand beside him to hold the candle. One cannot imagine that reading in bed under these circumstances would be very enjoyable, certainly not to one who had been accustomed to solitude and a gas jet easily turned on or off, but there is everything in habit.—Gas Logic.

Reasonable Supposition.

Binks—I believe that Mary does not love me any longer. Jinks—Did she say as much? Binks—No, but she let her little sister sit in the parlor with us last evening.—Woman's Home Companion.

The Average Man.

"The average man when he is a boy," a trifle involvedly ruminated the old codger, "decides that when he grows up he will be a drum major or a bandit, triumphantly survive battles, shipwrecks and holocausts and gallantly protect innocence and beauty in distress. But the average boy when he becomes a man finds himself so busy satisfying the appetite of the always hungry mortgage, endeavoring to achieve but never attaining the eminence of being the head of his own household, chasing at the earnest solicitation of his many friends the political prominence which forever eludes him, selecting the particular brand of health fodder that will injure him the least, running after or away from something or other, getting off a few well chosen words, trying to collect or evade that which is justly coming to him, placating his wife's relatives, accumulating baldness, pointing with pride or viewing with alarm, and so on and so forth, that before he has time to be anything more protuberant than one of the ciphers of the millions that inhabit this land of the free his men friends are walking slow behind him and saying that Bill was a pretty good feller, but—and his women friends are chastenedly wondering how soon the widow will marry again. That's all there is to the average man."—Puck.

One Word's Meanings.

English is a most remarkable language. It has some peculiarities of an extraordinarily rich vocabulary and others of the poorest and most barren tongue, separate words for minute distinctions and single words that have many meanings. Many examples of both peculiarities can be found in the Dialect Dictionary, an English publication. Every farmer's boy knows how to use the words lamb, sheep, ewe and ram, but how many of them would be able to define the words tag, tup-hog, teaser, tup-seg, tup-yeld and six tooth, each of which fixes the age or the sex of a sheep? For example, a tup-hog is a young ram before the first shearing. On the other hand, take the word rack. As used by people in one part of England or another it may mean a neck of mutton, the bones of a dead horse, a blow, a sharp pain, a kitchen fireplace, part of a hand loom, a reach in a river, a ford, a pathway, a rut, a gap in a hedge, a flying cloud, to pour off liquor, to stack. These are the unusual meanings, and there are others more common.—Youth's Companion.

The Dime.

That neat and lovable little coin, the dime, has had a most useful history. As far as we are aware, it is unique among the world's coins, having no nearer equivalent than the English sixpence, which is worth 2 cents more. It is one of the handiest of coins, being about as small as a silver piece can conveniently be. Being less in size and weight than the nickel, which is worth only half as much, it is vastly more convenient to keep and hoard, and that is one reason why it is becoming extraordinarily scarce in spite of the fact that more dimes are now turned out of the mints than ever before in the country's history. There is a rage for "dime banks," and some of these mechanical contrivances are so pretty, so ingenious and so alluring that they force people to save dimes who have no earthly occasion to do so.—New York Mail.

The Great Lake Cities.

Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, Detroit and Milwaukee, with Duluth and Superior thrown in at the head of the greatest lake and many thriving ports on Lake Erie added, are a unique section of the urban life of America. Their rate of growth is the highest maintained in any group of cities. Their death rate is phenomenally low. Their proportion of home owners is extraordinary. Their totals and gains in savings bank deposits are almost unparalleled. They are handsome cities as a group, full of enterprise and activity, fairly eloquent with the spirit of prosperity and progress.—Cleveland Leader.

Getting Licked For Principle.

Meeting a newsboy whose face was scarred with scratches and looked like a map of some great railroad center, a reporter asked the youngster what the matter was. "Feller spoke disrespectful of my sister; said he'd bet she was cross eyed, and I sailed in."

"Is your sister cross eyed?" asked the reporter.

"Hain't got no sister," was the reply. "It was the principle of the thing what I got licked for."—Philadelphia North American.

Literal.

The new office boy was found sitting in his chair, with the telephone transmitter in his lap.

"What in the world are you doing?" asked the boss.

"A fellow called up a little while ago," replied the future head of the firm, "and told me to hold the phone till he called again."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Trade's Sensitiveness.

German goods go where British goods might, but do not. Here is a case. The Russian joiner, not being a meat eater, has not much muscle and cannot use a heavy hammer. So he buys and uses the German light hammer made for him, while he has no use for the heavier one of English make.—London Post.

Tough.

"If I catch your dog eating any of my chickens I'll shoot him," said the old gentleman who keeps a henhouse angrily to his neighbor.

"I don't care," said his neighbor. "If he eats one of your chickens it won't be necessary for you to shoot him."

"Wilson Heaters"

(Only Highest Grade Materials Used.

The Wilson Heater will produce more heat from a unit of fuel, and keep your home at a more even temperature, with little or no trouble, and fewer ashes than any other heater made.

There is no Noxious Gas, Offensive Smoke or Cold Floor Draft where the Wilson Coal Heater is used.

Holds fire 36 hours or longer. The combustation is perfect—the heat does not go up the chimney. Burns every particle of the coal; does not make clinkers and leaves very little ash. Other stoves look much like the Wilson, but—that's all. None of them work like the Wilson and none are so good.

—LaGrange is to have telephone service.

—Near Morganton last week Mr. J. J. McCall, aged 45, was kicked to death by one of two mules which he was plowing. He left a widow and nine children.

—Henry Clayton, a young white man who was arrested on the day that Pawnee Bill showed in Wilson, was tried on Saturday found guilty and sentenced to the roads for eight months.

—An order has been issued by the Postoffice Department establishing a railway postal service on the Raleigh and Southport railroad from Lillington by Linden, Little River Academy and Kinnon to Fayetteville, a distance of 28.58 miles.

—The furniture manufacturers at Thomasville are complaining of a shortage in the supply of cars to carry away their products. They are clamoring for the Southern Railway to send them 50 cars.

—Charlotte Observer, Nov. 19.—Three of the English girls who are under orders of deportation will be sent away to-day. They go to New York and then to England. The ones who have been ordered away are Misses Bessie Barton, Mary Hall and Alice Heyward.

—The War Department, upon the recommendation of Gen. MacKenzie, chief of Engineers on Saturday granted authority to the Roper Logging and Lumber Company to construct an iron railway bridge across the Trent river near Pollocksville. Certain modifications are imposed with reference to the keeping of the structure. A bridge 40 feet wide is to be maintained.

—Jim Bond, alias John Dempsey, who passed a forged check in Wilson about 10 days ago, was found guilty on Saturday in the Superior Court of Wilson county and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. It is thought that this is the same negro who threatened to burn Judge Connor's house, but evidence was not sufficient to warrant a prosecution against him.

—Things again in a stir on the South & Western railroad, being graded and tunneled near Marion. Evidence is being gathered to prosecute some of the laborers who recently prosecuted the railroad people for peonage. The local counsel for the South & Western Railroad Company have advised the contractors that men leaving their employment, under contract to work out transportation and board, are indictable under a statute passed in 1905 making such offenses obtaining money under false pretenses.

—In the Superior Court at Asheville on Saturday Cliff Fowler, the 16-year old negro boy charged with the murder of Sidney York, in the "red light" district of Asheville, one night in July of this year, pleaded guilty of manslaughter and was sentenced by Judge Allen to 10 years in the State prison. Fowler was scared. He thought that he would be hanged and when the court pronounced a sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary the defendant wept with joy. Fowler killed Sidney York of Madison county with a rock.

—While out at play Friday afternoon with several lads, Master Arthur Bass, son of Mrs. Ada M. Bass, of Tarboro, was seriously hurt by the explosion of a toy cannon which had been loaded with a heavy charge of gunpowder. It seems that he tried to ignite the charge and failing to do so went to see what was the matter when the toy exploded breaking his nose and filling his face with fragments from his eye glasses, which were broken, also indicting painful facial wounds, endangering the sight. etc.

—Wautauga Democrat: Never so far back as we can recollect have there been so many cattle for sale in the mountain counties as there are just now, and the price is but little consideration—almost any old price takes them. Heavy fat cows have sold recently within the corporate limits of Boone for two cents gross when ordinarily the same cattle would have brought from 3 to 3 1-2 cents, and milk cattle are almost a drug on the market. There is, of course, a reason for the drop in cattle, not political either. The scarcity of feed is responsible for this great slump, and the people are bound to sell every hoof they can spare. The loss of the fodder crop, to many of our small farmers will mean a great deal—in fact it renders some of them unable to winter their cattle.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood, which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astounding result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THE COTTON MARKET.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 19.—The cotton market was less active to-day, but was less active to-day but reached a new high level for the season and closed very steady at a net advance of 3 to 9 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bales. The market opened strong at an advance of 6 to 17 points in resopnse to higher cables storm news from the South and bullish spot advices. Right after the call January sold at 10.45 and March 10.60 or about 16 to 19 points net higher and the figures attracted heavy realizing as well as some selling for short account based on the ground that the ginners' report expected next Wednesday would prove bearish. Prices eased off under this pressure but after selling at 10.32 for January and 10.47 for March the market rallied again on the unfavorable weather forecast and during the subsequent trading fluctuations were very nervous and irregular. Private wire reports that Southern holders were as firm as ever in their views and were offering very sparingly.

Receipts at the ports to-day 57,846 bales against 72,260 last week and 60,646 last year. For the week 410,000 bales against 412,648 last week and 391,182 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 15,602 bales against 18,897 last year and at Houston 13,027 bales against 16,742 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet 10 points advance; middling uplands 11.10; middling gulf 11.35; sales 3,700. Futures closed very steady. Prices ranged as follows:

Born With Two Heads.

—Wautauga Democrat: In the home of Will Davis, who lives in Beech Mountain township, on the night of November 5th, was born a boy bay with two heads, each one a perfect head, with perfect necks, one from each shoulder. The baby lived about 20 minutes, each head gasping for breath and struggling alike and then died. It weighed 6 1-2 pounds. It was the writer's privelege to see this baby and can verify the truthfulness of this narrative. The father and mother of the unfortunate are both young; the mother about 22, the father a little older. One other child has been born to this union. Will Davis, is a son of Andy Davis, a grandson of Joe Davis, who is known by many in this county. We learn a big sum of money was offered by doctors but was refused and the little casket was born away to the family burying ground at Elk's Mill, Tenn.

Made Some Material Changes

—Marion, Nov. 17.—The South & Western Railroad Company has made some material changes in the way of construction recently. All of the work from Altapas, in Mitchell county, to camp No. 7, some 10 miles from Marion, has been taken from the Carolina Company and let to independent contractors, known as the McCabe Company,. It is thought that this means quite a change in every respect and that it will facilitate the work. The tunnel near Marion is about 1,200 feet long and been let to Patton, Richardson & Co., and all work south of Marion to Bostic at the lower edge of Rutherford county, has been let to the Miller Quigg Construction Company, with the exception of four miles which goes to Purcell, Allen, Sreehan & Co. The contractors are all on the ground and are beginning in a business-like manner, and it appears to the people of the community that not many months hence will find a roadbed graded and completed entirely through McDowell county.

Kidney Troubles Attack Wilmington Men and Women, Old and Young Alike.

Kidney ills sieze young and old alike
Quickly come and little warning give
Children suffer in their early years
Can't control the kidney secretions.
Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.
Women worry, can't do daily work.
Robust men have lame and aching backs.
Old folks weak, rheumatic, lame,
Endure distressing urinary ills.
The cure for man, for woman, or for child
Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—
Cure all the varied form of kidney suffering.
Wilmington testimony guarantees every box.

J. T. Ebert, of 515 South Sixth street a mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pill in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brickdust sediment. We were much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she has improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back and in fact Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

IT'S IN THE DRAFT.

The secret of the fuel-saving qualities of this Buck's hot blast heater lies in the draft construction. It is so made as to allow large quantities of heated air to pass over the upper surface of the burning coal, thus supplying oxygen to the rising gasses, which are then converted into heating power.

Simple, isn't it? And yet it's new principle in stove building—not to be found elsewhere.

This stove will reduce your coal bill nearly one-third.

NEGROES NOT FIT TO BE IN ARMY

War Department Defends President's Dismissal of Three Infantry Companies.

NEW YORK NEGROES STIRRED

Two Meetings of Colored Ministers Condemn President and Mass Meeting Called at Cooper Institute.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 19.—"The three companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry were ordered discharged because it is not safe to have them in the army. They cannot be trusted, and for the protection of the public and the preservation of the discipline of the army their discharge is necessary." Acting Secretary Oliver of the War Department, said to-day. "The idea seems to prevail that the men were ordered discharged because they refused to tell on their companions and because they were black. Nothing could be further from the truth. These soldiers shot up a town. All of them refused to tell anything about the disgraceful affair at Brownsville, which resulted in murder. The companies are shielding murderers. There are men in the companies who are criminals of the worst sort. Every effort possible has been made by the War Department to find out the guilty men but without avail. If these companies are permitted to remain in the service and were ot shoot up another town and endanger the lives of citizens the War Department would be in an indefensible position. It is impossible to court martial each of the men in these companies, for a charge cannot be preferred against everyone of the members of the companies. Tre government has no means of punishing the crime committed except by discharging all the men."

Men Being Discharged.

Fort Reno, Okla., Nov. 19.—The first discharges of the colored troops at Fort Reno were made to-day when 25 soldiers were paid off and given transportation to their homes.

Twenty-five or 30 men will be discharged each day as the rolls are completed until all of the three companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry have been dismissed.

Negroes Condemn President.

New York, Nov. 19.—Resolutions disapproving the action of President Roosevelt in dismissing from the army without honor three companies of negro soldiers who were members of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, were adopted to-day by an organization known as "The Colored Baptist Ministers of Greater New York and Vicinity."

The resolutions declare that from all evidence the President's action was taken hastily and "the whole battalion was dismissed for not "peaching" on their comrades when it is not known and has not been clear that trey knew anything of it."

Resolutions disapproving the action of the President in dismissing the negro troops also were adopted at a meeting of the inter-denominational colored preachers to-day. It was decided to call a mass meeting at an early date at Cooper Union to protest against the President's order.

Is President Backing Down.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Acting under orders of Secretary Taft, Major General Ainsworth, the military secretary, late to-day directed that further discrarges of the men of the three negro companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry on account of the shooting at Brownsville, Texas, be suspended pending further orders. The action, it is stated is pending further advices from President Roosevelt who has been communicated with on the subject. The War Department has been deluged with protests against the order directing the discharge of the three companies.

NEGRO PROBABLY LYNCHED.

Masked Men in South Carolina Take Prisoner From Officers.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Columbia, S. C., Nov., 19.—A special to The State from Newberry, says: Mark Davis, a negro under arrest, was being brought to the Newberry jail Saturday when he was taken from the officers by a mob of masked men and it is thought he has been lynched.

Davis got into an altercation with Will and Alf Dorroh over some corn and fired at them with a single barreled shot gun. Neither of the Dorroh's was hit. They returned the fire and the negro ran away.

Later Constable Yancy Floyd, with a posse went in search of Davis and arrested him, placed him in a buggy and started for Newberry jail. At Smyrna church, about five miles from Newberry, a party of masked men sprang from the bushes on the roadside, overpowered the constable and took the negro away with them. The work was done rapidly and in silence.

WATER GRAVES FOR 42 PEOPLE

Two Steamars Collide With Terrible Results ot Pacific Coast Sunday Night.

FOUR WOMEN DROWNED

One Steamer Sank and Her Crew Went Down With Her—All People Who Perished Were From One Place.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Seattle, Wash., Nov., 19.—Forty-two lives were lost in last night's disaster off Alkali point when the little steamer Dix was run down by the Alaskan Liner Jeanie. Thirty seven of the 79 passengers on the Dix were rescued. Of the five female passengers on the Dix, the only one to escape was Alice Simpson, a 15 year old girl. She is believed to be the only person who escaped from the main deck of the steamer where more than half of the Dix's passengers were shut in when the crash came. She could not swim but her clothing kept her afloat until she was pulled aboard one of the life boats lowered by the steamship Jeanie. Post Blakeley contributed almost the entire roll of the dead. Post Blakeley is a town supported entirely by the lumber plant of the Blakeley Mill Company and the town today is almost helpless in its grief. Not a wheel is turning and the entire population is trying in some way to aid the efforts to recover bodies. Memorial services for the dead probably will be held in a day or two.

The collision occurred while the sound was almost as smooth as a mill pond and after the boats had been steaming within sight of each other for a quarter of an hour. The Jeanie was backing when she collided with the Dix and the impact was very slight. The Dix was struck abaft of amidship, on the starboard side. She listed heavily to port for a brief period, righted herself, then sank stern first. There was hardly time to launch life rafts or boats before she was almost entirely submerged. Passengers jumped from the decks into the water; women screamed and officers and men called orders that could hardly be heard above the din. The passengers from the Dix who could swim, made their way to the sides of the Jeanie and were dragged aboard.

Of the 79 or 80 persons aboard the Dix, more than half were on the lower deck when the collision occurred. They were penned in there and had absolutely no chance for their lives. All of the crew except Captain Lemon who happened to be above in his fare collecting round. and a deck hand, went down with their steamer. So far as known every one who managed to get free from the wreck was saved.

MME. CALVE TO BE MARRIED.

Will Wed Rich American and Sing No More In Public.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Paris, Nov., 19.—The vague rumors which have been circulating here for several days to the effect that Mme. Calve was betrothed to a rich American and would never appear on the operatic stage, are apparently confirmed. Last night, having quietly let her apartments, the singer left Paris for a long period after confiding the news to a few intimate friends, but demanding a pledge of secrecy regarding the name of her future husband. Mme. Calve's servants said she went away with her affianced, but they were unable to give either their destination or his nam. It is believed that the couple are now on board a yacht in the Mediterranean.

The whole affair is shrouded in mystery and romance. The future husband of Mme. Calve is described as a rich American artist, passionately fond of music, who for a long time has never missed a performance of Mme. Calve but who until recently had not sought an introduction. Just at the time when the American decided to ask for Mme. Calve's hand in marriage an accident to an electric apparatus rendered him blind, the last vision before he lost his sight being the face of the singer. Upon the return of the couple to France next Spring, it is said, Mme. Calve and her husband will install themselves in a chateau where a theatre similar to Adelina Patti's theatre at Craig-Y-Tos, Wales, will be built for Mme. Calve and her friends.

The news of Mme. Calve's marriage has created a sensation in musical circles.

WHAT IS WRONG ON THE CANAL

While in Panama Mr. Roosevelt Made Radical Changes in Management.

CHAIRMAN SHONTS SUPREME

Great Power Placed in One Man's Hands by Order of President—Will Appoint New Commission When He Returns.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 19.—An order signed on the Isthmus of Panama by President Roosevelt making radical changes in the organization of affairs of government for the canal zone was made public to-day at the offices of the Commission.

The order gives to Chairman Shonts supreme authority over all departments. It reorganizes the entire workings of the Commision in accordance with the President's view of controlling the situation under his plan to press the excavation as rapidly as possible. The executive committee of three members, each the head of a department, has been established and in its stead seven departments are or eetae dtahnd ments are created and the chief of each will report and receive instruction from the chairman of the commission. These departments will be under the direction of John F. Stevens, chief engineer; Richard R. Rodgers, general counsel; William C. Borgas, chief sanitary officer; D. W. Ross, chief purchasing officer; E. S. Benson, general auditor; J. Williams, disbursing officer and Jackson Smith, manager of labor and quarters.

The President will take up the question of the appointment of a new Commission upon his return to Washington.

On His Way Home.

Colon, Nov. 19.—President Roosevelt and his party sailed Saturday night at 10 o'clock for Ponce, Puerto Rico, on board of the United States battleship Louisiana.

After riding on horseback through the muddy streets of Colon Saturday afternoon the President went to the residence of Mr. Biers, general manager of the Panama Railroad for dinner. Those present included Chairman of the Canal Commission Shonts, Chief Engineer Stevens and their wives, Secretary Latta and Surgeon General Rixey. The secret service men with the Presidential party dined in an adjoining house.

At half past 8 o'clock President Roosevelt reached Pier 11, where there was an enthusiastic gathering of at least 800 persons. principally canal employes at Christobal and other points along the line. Here the President ascended the band stand and made a 30-minute speech.

In giving his impressions of the work on the canal, he said he was pleased with what had already been done, and paid his respects to those who had adversely criticised the work.

"How about Poultney Bigelow?" came from among the auditors.

With much deliberation the President remarked that in every large undertaking there was always some one to find something that was not done as it should have been; but the employes should on no account pay attention to such criticisms, as the critics would sink out of sight while the work the men were doing and had had done would remain long after all the criticisms were forgotten. President Roosevelt said also he was impresed with the magnitude and greatness of this work and that he would like to see one of his sons engaged therein.

Merger of Great Northern and Burlington Systems Will Take Effect In Fifteen Days—Link to Be Built.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Omaha, Neb., Nov., 19.—The Bee today said: "Within one week the equity which the Northern Pacific now holds in the Burlington will pass into the hands of the Great Northern and within fifteen days the Burlington and Great Northern will be merged into one vast system with James J. Hill in control.

"This statement was made to a reporter of the Bee today by a man close to the official family of tre Hill roads who has just returned from Chicago where the intricate operations of this gigantic transaction are now being perfected. He makes the statement without reservation.

"So far as the lines of track of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington are concerned these three roads lack but one little link now of being in fact, one great system. When the short cut from Burlington to Great Falls is completed, the unification will be consumated. The western terminus of the Burlington is Billings where it meets the Northern Pacific. A line has been in progress of construction for some time from Billings to Great Falls, where the Great Northern runs on its way to the coast.

"This line will be soon finished and when it is, the three great railroads will be joined and merged physically into one vast system."

TERRIFIC SNOW IN TEXAS.

Heavy Damage to Livestock and Sheep Is Feared.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

El Paso, Tex., Nov., 19.—Snow has been falling steadily since last night. It is very cold and as the storm is general in this vicinity, heavy damage to livestock and sheep in West Texas and New Mexico is feared. It is one of the most severe storms ever known in El Paso. and telephone and telegraph service is badly crippled. Street cars are running with difficulty and trains are late.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov., 19.—Heavy snow with lowest temperature of the year is reported from the Pan Handle section of Texas today. Wires are down in many places and snow plows are being used on the line of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad.
